THE TALK OF THE CAMPUS

Vets Take Village

A HOUSING project for veterans which represents "a splendid example of understanding, coordination and fulfillment of respective responsibilities" was officially turned over to the College by C. Leslie Weir, Region II project planner for Federal Public Housing Authority, on Homecoming weekend.

For 20 married veterans and 86 single ex-servicemen, the dedication marked the formal opening of their new residences now complete after intermittent delays caused by strikes and material shortages.

It meant that the College's overcrowded emergency housing condition was alleviated and the "displaced" veterans now have a new home for a college year and not for a service career.

More than 50 single veteran-students had been temporarily housed in jammed quarters in the gymnasium and private homes when a walkout by carpenters delayed completion before college opened. Married vets, their wives and families, were placed in private homes near the campus and downtown.

In impressive ceremonies at Oller Hall, Mr. Weir of FPHA declared that "here at Juniata College we have a symbol which every citizen can understand" as he formally presented the key to the 20-apartment Village and 86-man Sherwood Lodge to Henry B.

Trend of Times

Dr. John C. Baker, a member of Juniata College's Board of Trustees and president of Ohio University, Athens, O., chartered a plane to bring him to Huntingdon for the fall meeting of the Trustees.

Gibbel, member of the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Weir described the program of the Federal Government in providing housing for veterans citing Pennsylvania as an example where 24 municipalities and 26 educational institutions are executing cooperatively a twenty-five million dollar temporary housing project.

Congressman Richard M. Simpson, in a brief message, proclaimed that "it is fitting that these buildings, originally dedicated to war, now are dedicated as homes—a symbol of peace." He was supported in this belief by William S. Livengood, Jr., Secretary of Internal Affairs for Pennsylvania and an alumnus, who stated that he, too, recognized the symbol which the veterans' housing project represented.

The key to the project—and to his own apartment—was accepted by Thomas J. Boyd, Jr., Clairton army veteran of three campaigns in the South Pacific, who represented the ex-servicemen. President Calvert N. Ellis presided at the dedication.

Postwar Fund

A GOAL of $100,000 was set by Huntingdon County businessmen and alumni of Juniata in a November campaign to support the million-dollar postwar fund of the college.

Erection of a memorial physical education building to be dedicated to the men and women of the college who died and who served in the war will be one of the first objectives of the postwar planning project. Twenty-four gave their lives.

The postwar fund was set up a year ago, after a planning commission recommended that additional facilities and a larger endowment be made available to keep pace with a revised curriculum and a growing student body.

To date $211,000 has been contributed. Campaigns will continue throughout the winter in all sections of the state.

Mountain Day

LEST the spirit of pioneers be forgotten, Juniata College again adjourned classes on "a sunny day in October" to observe its annual Mountain Day with a trek into the scenic Pennsylvania hills.

All personnel of the College—students, faculty, and administration—were transported to Spruce Creek camp, 22 miles from campus, early in the morning for a day "to get educated" with nature. A hike into the rolling woodlands, paced by forest rangers, featured the morning outing.

Californians met in Long Beach to organize an active Juniata alumni club. Front, seated on ground: Mr. N. W. Hill, his son and daughter.

In many respects the outing was similar to earlier Mountain Days as described in a 1904 edition of the "Juniata Echo." At that time "the question of climbing was settled by having the boys form a line up the mountain side and assisting the girls one by one."

The Echo further described the morning trip down the Juniata valley—in 1904—as "invigorating for everyone." It revealed that "all girls, crippled, sick, or dead-in-love boys rode on large springless wagons." This year's trip was made by bus and automobile.

Californians Meet

JUNIATA College alumni are meeting from coast to coast.

In California not long ago, a group of 45 met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Pentz in Long Beach to organize an active Juniata alumni club in that area.

Promoted by Miss Lillian M. Evans, librarian of the college, the meeting was the first in which definite steps were taken to form a California alumni group of Juniata College. Miss Evans was then serving as librarian at Terminal Island Naval Base.

It was a tea and social affair utilizing the blue and gold of Juniata as the color theme. A table centerpiece included blue water lilies and yellow roses; cakes and candies were iced in college colors; napkins were decorated with the college seal.

Mr. H. J. Speck of Long Beach, a member of the class of '82 and oldest former student present, related his experiences of the "early days" at the college. Rev. Galen K. Walker, '05, Glendora, Calif., was selected president of the group and Miss Florence Bolinger '37, LaVerne, Calif., was appointed secretary-treasurer.

Expanded Faculty

THE College faculty and staff was expanded to meet the needs of a record student enrollment this fall with the addition of 13 new members and the return of five former members.

Among the five who returned were Dr. Charles S. Shively, professor emeritus of mathematics; Miss Lois V. Williams, instructor in classical languages; and Miss Lillian M. Evans, librarian. Miss Williams and Miss Evans were on leaves of absence.

Two others familiar to Juniata, the Rev. Tobias F. Henry, pastor of the Stone Church of the Brethren, and Professor Charles Grimminger of Altoona, have taught here in summer sessions. Reverend Henry is assistant professor of sociology and Professor Grimminger is instructor in modern languages.

Taking the Mary S. Geiger chair in Biblical studies is the Rev Wilbur H. Neff, former pastor of the Pittsburgh Church of the Brethren. Reverend Neff is a graduate of Juniata and studied at Western Theological Seminary.

Among the other newcomers are two men with doctor's degrees in their respective fields: Dr. Earl W. Seibert, assistant professor of psychology, and Dr. Raymond T. Davis Jr., instructor in chemistry.

Dr. Seibert came to the College from Green Mountain Junior College, Poultney, Vt., where he was professor of psychology and director of student personnel. He obtained his M Ed degree from Pennsylvania State College in 1938 and his Ph. D. from New York University in 1943. Dr. Seibert is a graduate of Elizabethtown College and was teacher, guidance counsellor, and psychologist in Hershey, Pa., for eight years.

A former research fellow at Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh, Dr. Davis is beginning his first year of teaching at Juniata. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins University.

Two new instructors in economics are J. Robert Miller, Villa Park Ill., and Howard C. Wilson, Chicago, Ill. Miss Katherine E. Hobbie, Lewistown, N. Y., is instructor in education; Miss Mabel Black, Dayton, Pa., instructor in English; Miss Jane Miller, Lititz, instructor in home economics; Miss Elizabeth Ann Shaffer, Confluence, instructor in modern languages; and Miss Agnes Hess, Altoona, part-time instructor in music.

Assisting Coach P. M. Mike Snider in football are William R. Smaltz, former Penn State passing ace, and Fred R. Bayer, Jr., Huntingdon, ex-Lehigh and pro-grid player. A. William Engel Jr., State College, is instructor in English and director of publicity.

Challenge to Youth

YOUTH of the world must meet the challenge of heading off "an apparent drift toward a third World War," Dr. Calvert N. Ellis has warned students at the college.

President Ellis urged undergraduates, including 260 veterans, to gear themselves for "a year of challenge" even though World War II is history. "We can avoid a third World War," the president emphasized, "if the youth of the world will devote themselves to using instruments of our industrial civilization for the betterment of everyone."

In his address to Juniata's largest undergraduate body, Dr. Ellis encouraged students to "ask yourselves what you honestly expect from the college year. 'I hope that you expect enough; that your ideal is great enough and broad enough to challenge all your capacities,'" the president advised.

"We can offer you at Juniata the opportunities, but the choice and effort must be yours. The faculty can guide you; the library can offer the record of mankind's struggles toward the light; the laboratory can give the chance for demonstration; and our common life is our proving ground."

"But it is your education," Dr. Ellis stressed to students. "You set the stakes, and next June you will know how far you have come."

Leadership Conference

JUNIATA College's entire faculty and 60 selected student leaders gathered at Camp Kaneshake preceding the opening of the college year to exchange ideas in a featured session of the Leadership Conference.

Although selected faculty members have participated in the conferences in previous years, this was the first time that the complete faculty was invited to take part in the interchange of ideas and social get together.

Designed to plan activities for the college year, the conference was the first off-campus gathering of student leaders since war began. A schedule of enlightening conferences plus worship and recreational activities was formulated by the Student Senate.

Faculty Club

FORMAL opening of the College's new Faculty Club at 1630 Moore St. was observed on September 26 by a tea. Previously used as a music house, the building was partly demolished by fire in January, 1945. It has been completely renovated and newly furnished.

Planning activities for the Faculty Club are Mrs. Sarah Hettinger, chairman; Mrs. Edgar S. Kiracofe, Miss Frances Mathias, Miss Jane Miller, A. William Engel, Herman Scholl and Howard Wilson.

Here and There

IN addition to the dedication of veterans' housing, the football game with Susquehanna and a musical program by the Curtis String Quartet featured the Fall Homecoming Day program. . . . Alumni who returned were curious to view the modern housing development. . . . The Frosh upset the Sophs in the traditional touch football contest, but the Sophomore girls turned the tables and took over the yearlings in the annual hockey scrap.

* * *

William Henry Chamberlin, former Moscow news correspondent and lecturer on Soviet relations, presented a timely report on "Russia Is Our Problem" in a recent program in Oller Hall. . . . Mr. Chamberlin delivered the Commencement address in 1944.

* * *

International problems are timely topics to at least three new students at the college this fall. . . . Ferdose Chase comes from far-away Kermanshah, Iran; Sita Smith arrived from Oslo, Norway, in late August; Thelma Alley returned with her missionary parents from India this summer.

* * *

The College band has been reactivated this year under the direction of Herman F. Scholl after a three-year lapse caused by the war. . . . It made impressive appearances (despite the lack of uniforms) at all home football games.

* * *

A Hammond electric organ has been installed in the organ studio in Oller Hall to supplement the electric pipe organ which has been in use. . . . The college choir is planning another mid-winter tour.

* * *

The Rev. Tobias F. Henry, former pastor of the Stone Church of the Brethren, has joined the faculty of the college but is temporarily serving as acting pastor of the Stone Church. . . . He is assistant professor of sociology.

On Grid Path

INDIAN teams returned to the gridiron this year—but not by blazing a path of victory and glory. After a three-season layoff and minus any brilliant holdovers from pre-war teams, it was conceded in pre-season dope that the team was a question mark from end to end and all the way back.

Naturally, Juniata expected to join the post-war upswing in collegiate football, but it bumped into half a dozen other schools equally as expectant. The 1946 combination was molded around men who had seen some football action in service plus a bumper crop of freshman "war vets" who were eager to learn. The combination, unfortunately, did not click.

The explanation is probably an intangible one. It might take an objective analysis to uncover the real cause. Certainly, Juniata's trio of coaches were well acquainted with the ex-servicemen's outlook on life in general and football in particular.

Head Coach P. M. "Mike" Snider served in the Pacific as a Navy lieutenant instructing in the physical training program and as an athletic director at several naval air bases.

Bill Smaltz, one of the nation's top passers five years ago at Penn State, coached and played football at Camp Edwards, Mass., and Fort Bliss, Tex., and spent considerable time as a staff sergeant with an anti-aircraft outfit in the South Pacific. He coached the backs.

Fred Bayer, line coach, is a veteran footballer who began his grid career in Huntingdon High School and later played pro ball. He served with an infantry division in Europe and was twice wounded. His brother, Bob Bayer, a former Princeton grid great and coach, assisted as an end coach.

Over at Farrell, Pa., on October 5, the Indians might have chalked up a victory instead of a 6-6 tie with Westminster if—that big if—alertness paid off in the scoring column. All four of Westminster's Fleet-footed, shifty halfback, Chuck Bargerstock is the only senior on the squad. He played ball for Juniata on 1940-41-42 teams; then saw combat service with Marines and was wounded on Iwo Jima where he was awarded the Purple Heart. He is married.

Don Everhart, 185 pound fullback from Wood, Pa., is one of the team's most consistent performers despite being an "old married man" at 24. He is the best punter on the squad and has a good season average. He was captain of the Indians against Albright.

fumbles were recovered by J.C. men. It was Bill Wilson's recovery of the second half kickoff which set up the tying score by Chuck Bargerstock on a 32-yard dash.

A massive Albright eleven, outweighing the Indians nearly 30 pounds to the man along the forward wall, merely overpowered Juniata on Parents' Day, October 12. It was a dreary, rain-swept day, always an aid to a heavier opponent, and Albright splashed to a 19-2 triumph. The two points scored by Juniata represented the first score ever made against Albright in the five-game series.

Susquehanna, the traditional rival from Selinsgrove, upset the dope on Homecoming Day by defeating the Indians, 9-0. The defeat was not overwhelming but it was wide enough to convince the skeptics that the Crusaders were superior in J. C.'s own brand of alert football. Susquehanna scored on a fourth down pass after recovering a fumble and later blocked a kick which bounced out of the end zone for a safety.

Unbeaten Alfred University gave Juniata more than a sample of a powerhouse running attack in the second half of its game on College Hill, November 2. After being held scoreless by an inspired Indian eleven in the first two periods, the Saxons came back strong to record four touchdowns and amass 354 yards rushing in a 27-0 triumph.

* * *

Short takes: A squad of 50 largest group of football candidates in Juniata College history, greeted Mike Snider this fall. . . . Freshmen outnumbered the upperclassmen 34 to 16. . . . Only senior was Chuck Bargerstock, ex-combat Marine. . . . Average age of the grid candidates was 21. . . . Oldest man was 25, youngest 17. . . . The gridders averaged 170 pounds in weight and 5-10 in height.

Grid Gleanings

JUNIATA College claimed no better than an even split with any of its six grid opponents on the 1946 schedule before this fall.

The Indians' series with Westminster and Ursinus are even. However, Albright, Alfred, Lebanon Valley and Susquehanna hold the upper hand in games with Juniata.

Opponent	Won	Lost	Tied	First Game
Westminster	2	2	0	1930
Albright	0	4	0	1920
Susquehanna	5	7	2	1923
Alfred	2	1	1	1926
Lebanon Val.	0	14	1	1920
Ursinus	1	1	0	1922

Bill Smaltz, backfield coach at the college and former Penn State passing ace, played a dual role on two college campuses this fall. In addition to completing his education at Penn State in the morning, Smaltz coached the backs at Juniata in the afternoon.

FOR A FEW years during the war period the Alumni Office assumed new duties in the special attention of Juniata men and women who were serving the country. By means of the Alumni Bulletin, the Juniatian, the Jay-Ce-O-Gram, a special bulletin for them, and letters, they were kept informed about the news of the campus, and the story of their own experiences. To a limited degree this service is continued because many of the men and women are still in the service.

Now, it is of great interest to them and to all Alumni Bulletin readers to learn what has happened to those who have been discharged. Starting with the last issue, information about the post war endeavors of our Juniata men and women in the service was given. It is continued in this and forthcoming issues until the record is complete.

PERSONALS

Dr. J. L. Eisenberg, CR
80 W. King St., Shippensburg, Pa.

Matthew Sell and his brothers, Howard and Elmer, '93Bus, have on several occasions taken pride in participating in ceremonies honoring their father, the Rev. James A. Sell, who at the age of 101 is the oldest minister in the Church of the Brethren and probably the oldest living minister in any church. Although he is now blind and has almost lost his hearing, he is able to preach occasionally. Rev. Sell as a young minister in the Church of the Brethren helped to encourage the founding of Juniata College. He is now residing at 238 W. Plank Road, Altoona, Pa.

1898

Mr. Milton B. Wright, CR
R.F.D. #2, Huntingdon, Pa.

Not long after he was graduated from Juniata, George H. Wirt became Pennsylvania's first State Forester. In early August of this year, he retired after forty-five years of public service. During this time the State's forests have expanded from one million to fifteen million acres. Annual losses from fire have been cut from 300,000 to fewer than 30,000 acres. From no fire protection at all back in 1901, this part of the forest service has grown until today it has nearly 4,000 workers who have recruited 35,000 men training in the job of fighting fires. There is now a complete system of 145 fire towers on mountain tops, all of them equipped with telephones and many with radio communication. Although there have been many changes in administration since 1901, the political situation never changed his rating and advancement in the Department of Forests and Waters. Mr. Wirt plans to "stay at home and take it easy."

1901

Mr. Harry W. Wagner, CR
315 - 16th St., Huntingdon, Pa.

A past president of the Central Pennsylvania Alumni Association, Mr. George M. Estep died at his home on Wednesday, August 28, 1946. Mr. Estep, prominent in Cambria County and state public affairs, was for fourteen years prior to his death specification specialist in the Bureau of Standards, State Department of Property and Supplies, Harrisburg. His residence was at 246 Maclay Street. Mr. Estep was president of the Central Pennsylvania Alumni Association in 1941. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, and two sons.

1922

Mr. Frank Magill
214 Spruce Street, Huntingdon, Pa.

Frank Magill, for several years the assistant, became superintendent of Huntingdon County Schools. He succeeds Joseph H. Neff, who retires after sixteen years of service.

1923

Miss Martha Mentzer, CR
4026 Cortland Ave., Altoona, Pa.

Jack Oller became the new president of Huntingdon Rotary for the 1946-47 term beginning July 1. During the summer, Prof. Oller attended the language school, Middlebury College, Vermont.

1924

315 W. Park Avenue, State College, Pa.

In order to meet the new demands for magnesium in industry, the Dow Chemical Company has consolidated magnesium operations under a separate Executive Board and General Managers to streamline magnesium sales, fabrication and technical divisions under one body. Dr. J. D. Hanawalt, ex, will be the board's general manager. He was former Director of Metallurgical Research. Dr. Hanawalt's father is Daniel A., '95Bus, and brother is Preston, '22AB.

Walter, the son of Charles A. Haas, "who used to cry when Juniata lost a ball game," is teaching mathematics in the University of Mexico. Haas, himself, is engaged in insurance business in New Waterford, Ohio. The last time he visited Juniata was in 1941 and he reports now being "glad to see the forward movement."

Ed Van Ormer notified the Alumni Office that Emma G. Weber, Mrs. John Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Van Ormer attended the class reunion on June 1. Those who were in there enjoyed letters from others including one eight page letter from Helen Grove West. This class favors the idea of a reunion late in the summer, spending a weekend on the campus when there is not such a crowd there. Good idea for that BIG 25th coming up in 1949.

Mr. Joseph W. Howe, CR
245 Belvidere Ave., Washington, N. J.

Dr. Arthur Shively, associate professor of Biology at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, is also instructing in the area college in Lancaster. In the same department at F and M, Dr. Fred Foster, 20ex, is a professor. Dr. and Mrs. Shively reside at 607 State Street.

New superintendent of schools for Burlington, N.J., a city of more than 12,000, is Joseph W. Howe, who resigned his post at Washington, N.J., public schools. In his new position, Mr. Howe oversees a staff of 95 teachers and a student enrollment of 1950 in six elementary and one high school. Since leaving Saxton Liberty to take his supervisory position in New Jersey in 1944, he has completed his course requirements for an Ed D degree and has become a member of Phi Delta Kappa, the New Jersey Schoolmaster's Club, and has been admitted to the New Jersey Department of Superintendence. Mr. Howe's family will remain temporarily at their Washington, N.J. residence.

Mr. Cyrus O. Caulton, CR
1310 W. Wynnewood Road,
Wynnewood, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. (Helen K. Wilt, '31ex) Glenn F. Williams, of 4022 Ridge Avenue, Altoona, announced the birth of a daughter on July 24, 1946, at the Altoona Hospital. There are two other daughters in the family, Susan Lee and Jane Elizabeth. Mr. Williams is conducting his own insurance business.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. (Helen Bowman, '29ex) Herman Elzey in the J. C. Blair Hospital on July 30, 1946.

Dr. H. Harold Hartzler, CR
R. 1, Goshen, Ind.

On September 1, Grant Hixson assumed the principalship of Tyrone High School. He entered the public schools in Tyrone in 1934 after four years of teaching in Warriors Mark High School. ### Record Enrollment

An all-time record enrollment of 573 has more than doubled last year's student body of 273 and obscured any doubt that "there's a big crowd" on College Hill this fall.

With an influx of more than 250 veterans supplementing the student contingent, it was impossible to hold enrollment within the "mythical maximum" of 500. Because of this sudden jump in student population, the physical plant of the College is pushed to capacity.

Most prominent change is that once again men have regained numerical superiority over women on campus. Registration figures indicated that the male dominated the female, 354 to 219.

Since ex-servicemen comprise the majority of the 354, it is apparent that there is a new trend in the overall picture of college life. The average age of the student has gone up and, in most cases, the mental score has jumped accordingly.

A former college nurse, Georgia Insley, ex, became the bride of Ralph Stamm on Christmas Day, 1946. The ceremony was performed in the Church of the Brethren parsonage at Bellefontaine, Ohio. Mrs. Stamm was discharged from the Army Nurse Corps on December 3, after having been in foreign service for many months. Mr. Stamm, of Lima, Ohio, had also been in the service. They are residing at 420 East Patterson Avenue, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

Luther Zehner, a student at Hahnemann Medical School in Philadelphia, has completed his junior year.

His record as a high point scorer in basketball was maintained by Dick Wareham at Bethany Biblical Seminary in Chicago where he helped the seminary team to a record of ten straight wins. In addition to his biblical studies he is serving as coach and instructor of athletics.
